Dear Hiring Manager

I am a recent graduate of Platt College San Diego's Web Design and Development program. I am proficient in writing clean and semantic HTML, CSS, JavaScript, and PHP. I have built a few projects over the past year and a half of school. I am very excited to be entering the work force to continue growing my skills and knowledge base. I am committed to learning and applying industry best practices to create a more accessible web experience for all users.

I believe my years of Naval service and coding experience make me a great fit for your team. I am team oriented and a quick learner when taking on projects that I am not familiar with. I have had to work extensively with multiple people across various different departments to accomplish our goals while in the Navy.

Thank you for your consideration. I look forward to meeting with you in the near future.

Sincerely,

Andrew Garner
